Hello <First name>,

Comfort matters all the time. But when does it matter most? At the end of a long day. When your legs are asleep but your hands are still moving. When you're the last one at the office typing away. Or when you're sending long emails from home late at night.

It's then that you need Logitech's highest level of comfort—the Cordless Desktop® Wave Pro™. The Wave Keyboard combines a wave-shaped contour, a curved layout, and a contoured palm rest that all work together to guide your hands into a more natural position. So you can do more and feel better doing it.
